

2009 Animal Adventure Camp FAQ

- Will my child have an opportunity to help an animal keeper?
 - For the safety of all, direct contact with exhibit animals is not possible. Please refer to the Activities section of the Parent's Guide for additional information.
- Can I come into camp with my child on Monday morning?
 - Yes, you are welcome to accompany your child into the Exploration Station at Six Flags Wild Safari. During drop-off and pick-up, we ask that you park your car in the parking lot and escort your camper to the "Sign In Table." Here you will be able to meet your child's camp counselor and ask any questions that you might have.
- Can siblings and/or friends be registered in the same group?
 - Registrations are processed on a first come, first serve basis. As sessions may fill quickly, Six Flags cannot guarantee that your child and their same-aged friend will be placed together. When completing your registration form, please mail your child's forms together with their friend's forms. We will do our best to accommodate you.
- What is your refund policy?
 - All payments are final, no refunds will be offered.
- Does my child need to bring a snack?
 - No, Six Flags will provide a late morning snack for each camper. Please refer to the Snack Guidelines section of the Parent's Guide for additional information.
- Where do I find my Camp ID Number?
 - Your Camp ID Number is located on your confirmation page. You must have the Camp ID Number for any camper that you are picking up.

- After registration, what information will I receive?
 - Your registration confirmation page will be mailed/faxed to you. Please be sure to retain this page as it contains your Camp ID Number.
- My child has special needs and has difficulty functioning at grade level. How should I register my child for camp?
 - If you have a concern about your child's needs, please call the office (732-928-2000 ext. 2076) prior to registration.
- Can I send sunscreen and/or insect repellent with my child to camp?
 - Absolutely, in fact, it is encouraged. Six Flags will not be responsible for supplying these items.
- My child will require medication during the day. Can the camp staff administer this medication on my behalf?
 - Yes. If you would like for camp staff to apply sunscreen and/or insect repellent or administer medication, you must complete the Request for Administration Form. Please refer to the Participant Health Records section of the Parents' Guide.
- Can my child attend camp for more than one session?
 - Yes, your child may attend for multiple sessions; however, each session is treated as a separate order. Please complete separate forms for each session that you are registering for.
- Where should I drop off my child if we arrive after 9:00 am?
 - Up until 9:00 am, drop off takes place at the Exploration Station main entrance. If you arrive after that time, please check in at the Exploration Station Animal Adventure Camp building (located behind Rip's Trunk of Treats).
- Why must I park my car and escort my child into camp?
 - We ask that when arriving to, or departing from camp, your car is parked in the Exploration Station parking lot and your camper is walked to and from the "Sign In" table. These policies have been made in an effort to ensure your camper's safety and to make Animal Adventure camp both more personable and more environmentally friendly.
 - Parking and turning off your car eliminates time spent idling, which reduces car emissions, making Exploration Station a greener place to be.
 - Escorting your camper to registration allows you, not only the opportunity to meet your child's camp counselor before camp even begins, but to ask any lingering questions that you might have.

- For complete details, see the Arrival/Departure Procedures in the Parents' Guide.

☐ Is it possible for someone else to pick up my child from camp?

- For children participating in car pools, the vehicle that picks up the children must display the Camp ID Numbers for each child to be picked up, or the children will not be released. This policy is non-negotiable, and in place to ensure the safety of your child.

☐ How do you select your camp counselors?

- In addition to being the best of the applicant pool, camp counselors are subject to criminal background checks and drug screening. Most have education and/or animal backgrounds. All counselors are over the age of 18.
